The BlackBerry Music Gateway does not use a battery; it is powered by the BlackBerry® Travel Charger. The BlackBerry Music Gateway uses Bluetooth® technology to establish a wireless connection with your BlackBerry device. After you pair the BlackBerry Music Gateway with your BlackBerry device, you can connect to the BlackBerry Music Gateway when it is within range of your BlackBerry device (a typical range is approximately 10 meters). The BlackBerry Music Gateway does not wirelessly transmit calls that you receive on your BlackBerry device to your stereo.

Components LED notification The LED light on the BlackBerry® Music Gateway displays different colors to indicate different statuses. 2 User Guide Basics LED color solid red solid blue flashing blue and red flashing blue for 3 seconds fast-flashing red, then solid red solid blue solid violet Description The BlackBerry Music Gateway is turned on, but it is not paired with or connected to your BlackBerry device. Retain these instructions for future use.

Audio Safety If you listen to audio files at loud levels, permanent hearing loss might occur. Avoid increasing the volume to block out noisy surroundings. If you experience ringing in your ears or muffled speech, consult a physician to have your hearing checked. CAUTION: Do not plug a headset into the BlackBerry Music Gateway. Electrical Safety The BlackBerry Music Gateway should be used only with the type of power source indicated in the operation instructions.

Route all cables so that they are not likely to be walked on, tripped over or pinched by items placed upon or against them. Pay particular attention to the point where the power cable plugs in to the BlackBerry Music Gateway. Do not overload power outlets, extension cords, or integral convenience receptacles as this can result in a risk of fire or electric shock. To reduce the risk of damage to the cord or the plug, pull by the plug rather than the cord when you disconning U.S. patents: 6,278,442; 6,271,605; 6,219,694; 6,075,470; 6,073,318; D445,428; D433,460; D416,256.
